Introducing:

Prerequisites: This program will not certify participants as an elder mediator, but is meant as an advanced training course for those who have completed the EMTP's Introductory Course™. Equivalencies include participants with basic mediation training and experience, and mediators in the accreditation process, as well as facilitators with backgrounds in gerontology, social work, nursing, counselling, education and law. Prerequisites beyond the EMTP™ course will be discussed with the Program Director.

Advanced Elder Mediation

This interactive three-day program (24 hours) is designed to immerse participants in the practice of Elder Mediation*.

Two mediation models, PRREP™ and Elder Family Conferencing™ will serve as templates for skill-building, and participants will engage in discussions, demonstrations and exercises that will help them organize, prepare and implement the elder mediation process.

Our role plays will be an exciting part of the program. The ROLE PLAYERS, seasoned actors knowledgeable about mediation and trained to embody real-life scenarios will bring our skill-building alive. Interview skills at all stages of the process will be a primary focus.

Role plays will reflect the stages of mediation, including

- Intake and screening
- Pre-mediation interviews
- Strategic decisions about who to include
- The Multi-Party mediation

Role Plays will be based on real life examples, such as:

- Cultural and ethical factors
- Elder abuse situations
- Capacity and accommodation
- Legal "red flags"
- And more...
